VAT Reclaim

Most North American companies that incur Value Added Tax (VAT) on business related expenses in Europe, Australia and Japan are entitled to a refund. In some instances, VAT registration may be required.

To obtain a refund, a company must submit original VAT invoices to the tax authorities where the expenditure was incurred. Official application forms in the local language of the country must be completed and submitted along with the original invoices.

We know the necessary procedures and have the forms in order to expedite your claims for prompt and maximized VAT refund.
